

Reconciliation is the React's “diffing” algorithm.
It makes component updates more predictable.

When a component's state changes, React has to calculate if it is necessary to update the instances.

Elements of Different Types

```

  <PokemonCard />

```