

so..

reconciliation: is the algorithm React uses to diff one tree with another to determine which parts need to be changed.

update: A change in the data used to render a React app. Usually the result of `setState`. Eventually results in a re-render.

scheduling: the process of determining when work should be performed.

work: Any computations that must be performed. Work is usually the result of an update (e.g. `setState`).